FLOOR DEBATE

April 15, 2003 LB 454

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Senator Hartnett, in your explanation, did you say that this would be for the purpose of moving it over to Select File, and then we would deal with new language at that time? Or...I didn't hear what you said. Would you explain?

SENATOR HARTNETT: No, I think that what I hear, Senator Schimek, is that I think that we need rules and regs...the courts are operating differently in different jurisdictions, the seven courts. So I think there has to be some uniformity. And that's what I hear, that that's...there would be more courts set up if we had some more...if there was some uniformity. So if the language is not correct, we could take care of it on Select. I think that's what Senator Foley is saying. You know, they cannot continue to operate. If it's...I would be willing to, you know, make some changes in Select File, and so forth, at Select.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Well, I guess I'm not sure whether I want to support this language or not. I'm not certain that it really does that much. And I did hear on the floor yesterday, and I'm certainly no expert on drug courts, but I did hear that part of their virtue was that they were each adaptable, and they could each fit their own situation in their own community. I'm not arguing against this. I'm just not sure that I think that this is necessary. And I guess I would like to know if you have any further response at this time.

SENATOR HARTNETT: What...Senator Schimek, I think what I hear is that there needs to be some uniformity in it. And I think that's something that...that maybe the rules and regs should, I think, in...should come back to us to look at, that they propagate, by the...you know, by the courts, that we should have another review next year in the session next year, so that they fit in with, you know, what's in practice right now. And so maybe there could be some flexibility between, you know, what Lancaster County does, what Sarpy County does, what Douglas County does.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: And does this actually need to be done statutorily for it happen, do you think?
